Father-Son Banker Team Accused as Embezzlers

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A father and son pleaded innocent in U. S. District Court to charges of conspiring to embezzle more than one-half million dollars from a Fairfield County bank.

Judge Mel G. Underwood set trial for Dec. 1 for Fred B. Lewis, about 67, of Rushville, and Fred K. Lewis, about 42, of Chillicothe. They were president and cashier, respectively, of the old Rushville Banking Co. They were released in $1,000 bond each.

The indictment against them charges that they drew 1,292 checks, amounting to $520,000, on two companies which did not have sufficient funds to cover them.

The indictment said the father used bank funds to pay the checks, and that he made false entries in the bank's books to cover up the operation.

The two companies are the Ohio Silica Co. and L & M Equipment

Co., both of Rushville. It could not be determined whether both father and son were officers of these companies. However, Fred K. Lewis is listed in state records as being one of three incorporators of both companies and also the agent for services.

The other two incorporators are his wife, Florence, and a Charles H. McCreary. Both companies were incorporated Nov. 15, 1955.

The four-count indictment said the conspiracy to defraud the bank occurred between May 1, 1957, and May 1, 1958.

It listed two specific instances in which the father, who also was a bank director, withheld from a bank processing a check of Ohio Silica for $331.13 and one of L & M Equipment for $499.55.

In both cases, the indictment said the companies did not have sufficient funds to cover the checks, both dated last January, and that the father used bank funds to pay them.

The indictment did not say to whom the checks were paid, but did say that they were issued by the son.

Apparently the operation was discovered after the father made a report to the State Division of Banks. The indictment said he intended to defraud the bank by falsely stating in the report that its total cash balance was $688,324.88 when he knew it was only $168,324.38.

The $520,000 difference is the amount embezzled, the indictment said. It did not say if any of the money was recovered.

Last May 24, the Rushville bank was taken over by the Farmers and Citizens Bank of Lancaster, which has operated it since then as a branch office.

The Lewises lost their jobs in the changeover.

The two companies involved in the alleged embezzlement were reportedly up for sale in recent months, according to Fairfield County sources. But the State Tax Department, which keeps records of corporation sales, said it has no records of such a transaction being completed.

Sharp Eyes Of Civilians Trap Bandits

BURLINGTON, Ky. (AP)—A woman's quick surmise as to what was happening, the wrecking of a getaway car, the sharp eye of an automobile junkyard operator and a massive manhunt led to the arrest of four men Thursday on charges of robbery of the Farmers' Bank at nearby Petersburg.

The four, all Chicagoans, were arrested within five hours of the time two of them entered the bank and took $2,000 at gunpoint.

The four were listed as Joseph M. Jalove, 37; Clifford Brinegar, 32; Anthony Orlando, 39, and Patrick Thornton, 19. Brinegar is a Boone County native.

All four were to be given a hearing before a U.S. commissioner in Federal Court at Covington today on the bank robbery charges filed by the FBI.

Police said the woman who touched off the manhunt was Mrs. Jack Clore, wife of the operator of a grocery which is next door to the bank. She saw the men turning up the license plate on their car and saw two enter the bank. She surmised it was a bank robbery. She called to her husband and he followed the getaway car to the farm of B. M. Brinegar, father of one of the arrested men.

Then Jalove was found walking along Kentucky Road 20. The car he had been driving had been wrecked in a ditch.

Then the operator of the automobile junkyard in Hebron spotted Thornton trying to hide and called police. Thornton had been with Jalove, police said, and fled after the wreck.

Orlando and Brinegar were found hiding along the Ohio River bank.

Bad Check Artist Is Nabbed by FBI

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—A Hillsdale, Mich., man arrested Wednesday night on charges of interstate transportation of phony checks was put under $5,000 bond Thursday by U.S. Commissioner John J. Barone.

Clifford Cunningham Jr., 25, was unable to pay the bond and was held in Lucas County jail.

Cunningham was arrested by Fostoria police who said he was posing as a member of a nationally known rock 'n' roll quartet. The FBI took him into custody, saying it has evidence he has passed bad checks in Cleveland, Chicago and Los Angeles. Cunningham told Fostoria police he has passed $69,000 in phony checks in several states.

Short Range Missile May Be Shelved

WASHINGTON (AP)—The long range intercontinental ballistic missile and the cold facts of international relations may shove the intermediate range rocket out of the United States arsenal.

That trend was indicated in a news conference by Secretary of Defense McElroy Thursday.

McElroy hastened to say that the United States will go ahead with production of the Thor and Jupiter IRBMs to complete orders for weapons to be deployed to Europe—to England and probably to Italy.

But the defense chief also said that "the farther you go down the road of the ICBM, the less interesting it is to employ additional IRBMs."

With the ICBM, which would be launched from bases in the United States, "we would have complete control," commented McElroy. This presumably meant that the United States would be free of the complications of sharing with other countries control of the missiles, which in the case of the IRBMs, would be fired from bases in allied nations.

McElroy had another point to make: if an enemy had to use his own ICBMs to strike U.S. missile bases, the job would be more difficult at 5,000 miles range than at 1,500—the range of an IRBM. The first missile to be pitched would not be ours, but the enemy's. We would have more time, even if only half an hour, to start counter-measures than we would if the reliance was on medium-range missiles at forward bases overseas, he implied.

McElroy's remarks seemed to suggest encouraging hope for perfection of ICBMs. Currently, the Air Force has three ICBM projects. They are the Atlas, the Titan and the Minuteman. The Minuteman is to be a solid fuel instead of liquid fuel rocket, more reliable in firing and easier to install in heavily fortified underground launching positions.

McElroy's news conference also brought word of another change in military planning.

The Defense Department, he said, will reinstate its program for cutting 55,000 more men out of the Army and Marine ground forces. The cutback was delayed when crises developed in Lebanon and Formosa, and U.S. troops were rushed to Lebanon.

McElroy said "we are about ready to start" again on the cutback. This means that by next June 30 the Army should be down to 870,000 men and the Marines to 175,000.

Should Sex Questions Be Asked Pupils?

TOWSON, Md. (AP)—Should high school pupils be asked questions dealing with sex, stealing and whether they are losing their minds?

A Parent-Teacher Assn. group said the questions were perfectly all right.

The president of the school board said nothing doing, the questions were objectionable.

The school superintendent tossed in the towel. He said publicity given the psychological tests had destroyed their value.

The pupils in Baltimore County schools no longer will be asked such things as:

Do they worry about sex matters?

Did they steal when they were younger?

Are they afraid of losing their minds?

Things came to a head after pupils at Franklin Junior-Senior High took the tests. Some parents objected. The furor got into the papers.

School Supt. Edward G. Stapleton said "any value the program offered has been destroyed by publicity over the thing."

Ernest E. Wooden, president of the Board of Education, said "We have to rely on the recommendations of the superintendent."

The board—without comment—ordered the tests ended.

Pre-Election Fuss Among Republicans On Right-to-Work Issue Is Detailed

By JAMES B. SIBBISON
WASHINGTON (AP)—Early last summer, Gov. C. William O'Neill made a hurried trip to Washington. His purpose, he told reporters, was to discuss highway problems with the Ohio GOP congressional delegation.

What reporters did not know was that something even more important was also talked over at the meeting—an issue that five months later contributed so heavily to the shattering Republican defeat in Ohio.

The issue, of course, was the so-called right-to-work, to outlaw the union shop. To a man, the Ohio Republicans at that meeting addressed by O'Neill did not want it on the ballot.

Their fears—later proved right—were that the proposal would only bring out anti-Republican votes.

But being right, as the defeated

O'Neill and Sen. John W. Bricker (R-Ohio) now know, doesn't always help. Right-to-work backers went right ahead and got it on the ballot.

What happened? Why did many Republican businessmen ignore the advice of party leaders and persist in getting the proposal before the voters?

As GOP sources explain it, the big decision was made at a meeting of the Queen City Club in Cincinnati last June.

This meeting was arranged by Charles R. Hook, chairman of the American Rolling Mills Co. and a backer of right-to-work.

In attendance were Bricker, Ohio GOP Chairman Ray Bliss and about 25 businessmen. O'Neill sent word he couldn't make it.

Bricker put his message straight. He said if the right-to-work backers succeeded in getting the question on the ballot, the Republicans might lose the Legislature, the governor's chair, and some Congress seats.

"I may go down myself," Bricker told them.

The reaction among the assembled businessmen was one of shock. As one source says, many

Boy, 18, Kills Young Brother Because He Was 'Inferior'

LOS ANGELES (AP)—"My brother was an inferior person. He just had to die. He was a no-good person to be around. I couldn't stand the thought of Ted getting married and bringing kids into the world."

This was Bruce Ginn, 18, slight, brown-eyed psychiatric patient, talking to detectives and newsmen Thursday at the county jail.

Downstairs, in the county morgue, lay the body of his brother—Ted, 14, riddled with seven bullets from a mail-order revolver.

Their parents, Harry and Ruth Ginn, are a deacon and deaconess at the Community Church in suburban Altadena, where the family lives.

"Everything he did was bad," Bruce went on. "Instead of sitting straight he'd slouch. When he sat in a chair he'd cross his legs."

"A good friend of mine came to see me once and Edward (Ted) kept working a yo-yo in front of him."

"I just knew he was never going any place and there was no use in his being around."

He quit talking to his brother 21 months ago "because he tore up some book covers. That was the end."

"Are you sorry you killed your brother?" someone asked.

"Not at all. I'd do the same thing again."

"Last August I saw a magazine ad that said guns could be bought by mail order," he said. "I saved my money, and when I got $10 for my birthday I had enough. I sent the people $16.50 for the gun. They sent me an affidavit to fill out saying I was 21 and had never been in jail."

"The gun came about the middle of October. I hid it in my desk drawer."

"Last Wednesday . . . I thought this might be the day."

Ted came home from school and "like always, he changed his clothes and went into the bathroom." As Ted opened the bathroom door, Bruce shot him. Then he called police.

The boy was booked on suspicion of murder.

Detective Sgt. Jim Wahlke said a psychiatrist treated Bruce for a year.

U.S. To Ask Explanation of Rap by Poland

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States will ask Polish leader Wladyslaw Gomulka to explain his move in joining Russia to denounce American policies as endangering world peace.

Gomulka's remarks, made Wednesday after talks in Moscow with Premier Khrushchev, have disturbed top State Department officials.

Authorities are particularly upset over his outspoken support for new Soviet demands for an end to four-power control of Berlin.

His denunciation of "American imperialists" comes at a time when Poland has appealed for more economic aid to bolster its shaky economy.

During the past two years, the United States has extended 193 million dollars in aid to Poland, mainly surplus food, cotton and machinery. This aid, given despite some congressional opposition, has gone to help Gomulka with his professed objective of leading Poland toward more independence from Russia.

Most officials played down the possibility the Eisenhower administration would suddenly end its aid program.

Their tentative conclusion was that Gomulka echoed Moscow's line in order to survive and continue his drive to increase his nation's independence.

2 Women Shot While Tied Up In Their Home

BOWLING GREEN, Va. (AP)—A posse of hundreds combed the countryside near this central Virginia town today for a gunman who shot and killed two women Thursday night after terrorizing a home for two hours.

Police said the motive of the Negro intruder was robbery. The victims were white.

Killed were Mrs. James S. Brooks, 33, mother of four and wife of restaurant operator James S. "Cap" Brooks, and her mother-in-law, Mrs. Kate Lewis Brooks, 74.

Police said the victims were tied up by the gunman and shot after he spotted Brooks running to a nearby farmhouse to call help.

"You all think you are smart. Your husband was out there," authorities quoted the intruder as saying just prior to the shootings.

Kenneth Van Allen, in the Brooks home to give a music lesson, was injured in a scuffle with the intruder. Van Allen, 35, was hospitalized in Fredericksburg, 20 miles north of this town of 700.

Authorities said the gunman was admitted to the isolated home by Jeanean Brooks, 9, who met him outside and invited him in when the man asked for food.

Once inside, he produced a revolver. He tied up the two victims and the maid, Edna Mae Parker, 13, a Negro. Then he herded into the same room the four children—Jeanean, Mason, 7, and twin boys Lynn and Lewis, 5.

The younger Mrs. Brooks was to attend a banquet in Bowling Green Thursday night. When she failed to appear, people telephoned her husband to inquire about her.

Brooks telephoned home. Jeanean answered and talked evasively. Brooks rushed home. He spotted the gunman in the hall and Brooks fled for help. The gunman saw Brooks and then shot the women, police said.

Van Allen, meanwhile, had managed to work loose and attempted a break. The intruder grappled with him but the music teacher tore loose and ran from the house.

Van Allen got into his car and drove away as the gunman fired several shots at him. The slayer then left the house.

Van Allen drove to a store and reported the incident.

Theft of Baltimore Car Becomes Commonplace

BALTIMORE (AP)—J. Carleton Jones admits his curiosity has been aroused.

His 1950 two-door sedan was stolen from near his front door last night for the fifth time in 18 months.

But, adds Jones, "I have a new hardtop convertible which nobody's ever touched."

One patrolman who took the stolen car report said he could almost remember the missing car's serial number from having written it so often.

Soviet Pledges Utopia in '70

World's Best Living Standard Promised

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet government today promised its people the highest living standards in the world by 1970.

The promise was made in a report on Premier Khrushchev's seven-year economic plan which was approved Wednesday by the Communist party Central Committee.

The plan for the years 1959-1965 calls for an 80 per cent increase in Russian industrial production. This will enable the Communist bloc to produce more than half the world's industrial goods in 1965, compared with about one-third now, the report claimed.

This "will provide a real foundation for overtaking and outstripping per capita production in the United States" by 1970, according to the report.

By 1970 or possibly earlier, the report adds, "the U.S.S.R. will take first place in the world both for absolute volume of production and for per capita production, which will insure the highest living standards in the world."

Such economic success would prove the absolute superiority of communism over capitalism, the report declared.

The report will be delivered at the 21st party congress, scheduled for next January. At a date not yet announced it will be presented to the Supreme Soviet, Russia's parliament, for certain approval.

The seven-year plan was presented as part of a 15-year development program which "provides the necessary conditions to be created for completing the transition to communism." The report refrains from promising a date for the Soviet millennium of pure communism in which each contributes according to his ability and is rewarded only according to need.

The volume of state capital investments during the next seven years will almost equal capital investments in the 41 years of Communist rule, Khrushchev said.

At the same time he promised a better life to the more than 200 million Russians. The real incomes of factory and office workers will increase an average of 40 per cent and of collective farmers by no less than 40 per cent, the report said.

Improvements in pensions and health services plus alleviation of the housing shortage also were promised.

The official news agency Tass issued three versions of how this will be accomplished.

Avoiding flat commitment, two versions said a five-day work week "is suggested" for factory and office workers, who will number 66 million in 1965. A third version said that for those working six or seven hours a day, "a five-day working week, with two days off a week, is to be introduced" at an unspecified time, but presumably within the seven-year plan.

"The transition of factory and office workers to a six or seven-hour working day is to be completed by 1960," Tass said, and those with a seven-hour day will have a 40-hour week—meaning almost six work days—by 1962.

Father-Son Banker Team Accused as Embezzlers

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A father and son pleaded innocent in U. S. District Court to charges of conspiring to embezzle more than one-half million dollars from a Fairfield County bank.

Judge Mell G. Underwood set trial for Dec. 1 for Fred B. Lewis, about 67, of Rushville, and Fred K. Lewis, about 42, of Chillicothe. They were president and cashier, respectively, of the old Rushville Banking Co. They were released in $1,000 bond each.

The indictment against them charges that they drew 1,292 checks, amounting to $520,000, on two companies which did not have sufficient funds to cover them.

The indictment said the father used bank funds to pay the checks, and that he made false entries in the bank's books to cover up the operation.

The two companies are the Ohio Silica Co. and L & M Equipment

Co., both of Rushville. It could not be determined whether both father and son were officers of these companies. However, Fred K. Lewis is listed in state records as being one of three incorporators of both companies and also the agent for services.

The other two incorporators are his wife, Florence, and a Charles H. McCreary. Both companies were incorporated Nov. 15, 1955.

The four-count indictment said the conspiracy to defraud the bank occurred between May 1, 1957, and May 1, 1958.

It listed two specific instances in which the father, who also was a bank director, withheld from bank processing a check of Ohio Silica for $331.13 and one of L & M Equipment for $499.55.

In both cases, the indictment said the companies did not have sufficient funds to cover the checks, both dated last January, and that the father used bank funds to pay them.

The indictment did not say to whom the checks were paid, but did say that they were issued by the son.

Apparently the operation was discovered after the father made a report to the State Division of Banks. The indictment said he intended to defraud the bank by falsely stating in the report that its total cash balance was $988,324.88 when he knew it was only $168,324.38.

The $320,000 difference is the amount embezzled, the indictment said. It did not say if any of the money was recovered.

Last May 24, the Rushville bank was taken over by the Farmers and Citizens Bank of Lancaster, which has operated it since then as a branch office.

The four were listed as Joseph M. Jalove, 37; Clifford Brinegar, 32; Anthony Orlando, 39, and Patrick Thornton, 19. Brinegar is a Boone County native.

Pre-Election Fuss Among Republicans On Right-to-Work Issue Is Detailed

By JAMES B. SIBBISON

WASHINGTON (AP) — Early last summer, Gov. C. William O'Neill made a hurried trip to Washington. His purpose, he told reporters, was to discuss highway problems with the Ohio GOP congressional delegation.

What reporters did not know was that something even more important was also talked over at the meeting—an issue that five months later contributed so heavily to the shattering Republican defeat in Ohio.

The issue, of course, was the so-called right-to-work, to outlaw the union shop. To a man, the Ohio Republicans at that meeting addressed by O'Neill did not want it on the ballot.

Their fears—later proved right—were that the proposal would only bring out anti-Republican votes.

But being right, as the defeated

O'Neill and Sen. John W. Bricker (R-Ohio) now know, doesn't always help. Right-to-work backers went right ahead and got it on the ballot.

What happened? Why did many Republican businessmen ignore the advice of party leaders and persist in getting the proposal before the voters?

As GOP sources explain it, the big decision was made at a meeting of the Queen City Club in Cincinnati last June.

This meeting was arranged by Charles R. Hook, chairman of the American Rolling Mills Co. and a backer of right-to-work.

In attendance were Bricker, Ohio GOP Chairman Ray Bliss and about 25 businessmen. O'Neill sent word he couldn't make it.

Bricker put his message straight. He said if the right-to-work backers succeeded in getting the question on the ballot, the Republicans might lose the Legislature, the governor's chair, and some Congress seats.

"I may go down myself," Bricker told them.

The reaction among the assembled businessmen was one of shock. As one source says, many called Bricker gutless and said he was concerned only with saving his own skin.

The late Sen. Robert A. Taft's fight against union leaders was cited. Bricker was compared unfavorably to Taft.

So Bricker and Bliss gave up. From there on, the course was set. Later, as everyone knows, O'Neill embraced right-to-work.

Bricker said he would vote for it, but expressed some reservations and said he was not necessarily advising anyone else to favor it.

This brings up another point. People at the top in the Ohio GOP feel the right-to-work supporters used the names of O'Neill and Bricker during the campaign far beyond anything either had authorized.

For example, they say that right-to-work literature quoted an old speech Bricker made on labor legislation in the Senate and made it appear he was talking about right-to-work.

Interestingly, the Ohio Republicans say the really big businessmen never wanted to outlaw the union shop. Exceptions were such firms as Hook's Armco, General Electric and Timken Roller Bearing Co.

It was principally the small businessman, the GOP says, who wanted it—particularly on the retail level, such as the Lazarus Department Store in Columbus.

On the other hand, the Ohio GOP also believes that for the most part the proponents for right-to-work were sincere.

Some of the defeated GOP candidates, long friendly to businessmen, still are approached by right-to-work proponents who tell them "I have been proved wrong."

Cell Growth Rules Learned By Scientists

NEW YORK (AP) — Science is rapidly getting down to the basic rules of cell growth — and this knowledge will have great repercussions in the fight against cancer.

So reported Dr. Torbjorn Caspersson of the University of Stockholm today. He is a member of the committee that awarded the 1958 Nobel prize in medicine and physiology to three Americans.

Caspersson said his primary interest was in the chemistry of cells, and in the chemical events concerned with the genes, which transmit cell heredity.

If you took 100 normal cells, you might find them very much alike, he said, but if you took 100 cells from a tumor, these cancer cells would vary greatly from each other.

Scientific progress in learning the secrets of cell life and growth is moving extremely fast, he said. Great progress has been made in the past 10 years.

One of the big reasons for this progress, he said, was the use of radioactive isotopes, ordinary elements which have been tagged with radioactivity so that their use by a cell or a group of cells could be traced.

Boy, 18, Kills Young Brother Because He Was 'Inferior'

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "My brother was an inferior person. He just had to die. He was a no-good person to be around. I couldn't stand the thought of Ted getting married and bringing kids into the world."

This was Bruce Ginn, 18, slight,

brown-eyed psychiatric patient, talking to detectives and newsmen Thursday at the county jail.

Downstairs, in the county morgue, lay the body of his brother Ted, 14, riddled with seven bullets from a mail-order revolver.

Their parents, Harry and Ruth Ginn, are a deacon and deaconess at the Community Church in suburban Altadena, where the family lives.

"Everything he did was bad," Bruce went on. "Instead of sitting straight he'd slouch. When he sat in a chair he'd cross his legs."

"A good friend of mine came to see me once and Edward (Ted) kept working a yo-yo in front of him."

"I just knew he was never going any place and there was no use in his being around."

He quit talking to his brother 21 months ago "because he tore up some book covers. That was the end."

"Are you sorry you killed your brother?" someone asked.

"Not at all. I'd do the same thing again."

"Last August I saw a magazine ad that said guns could be bought by mail order," he said. "I saved my money, and when I got $10 for my birthday I had enough. I sent the people $16.50 for the gun. They sent me an affidavit to fill out saying I was 21 and had never been in jail."

"The gun came about the middle of October. I hid it in my desk drawer."

"Last Wednesday . . . I thought this might be the day."

Ted came home from school and "like always, he changed his clothes and went into the bathroom." As Ted opened the bathroom door, Bruce shot him. Then he called police.

The boy was booked on suspicion of murder.

Detective Sgt. Jim Wahlke said a psychiatrist treated Bruce for a year.

Dr. Fred Wilson, mayor, was not available Thursday night for comment on Williams' telegram. At the time of the killing incident, he told newsmen several white parents had become disturbed over the boys' action but that the situation "cooled off" in a few days. He added:

"Such acts are not tolerated here — whether (involving) white or colored at any age."

Williams is president of the Union County chapter of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP).

The two boys, Hannover Thompson, 9, and Fuzzy Simpson, 8, were sentenced to indefinite terms at the Morrison Training School for Negro boys. Judge J. Hampton Price of the county juvenile court would not disclose the trial testimony, saying that juvenile court proceedings are not public record.

2 Women Shot While Tied Up In Their Home

BOWLING GREEN, Va. (AP)—A posse of hundreds combed the countryside near this central Virginia town today for a gunman who shot and killed two women Thursday night after terrorizing a home for two hours.

Police said the motive of the Negro intruder was robbery. The victims were white.

Killed were Mrs. James S. Brooks, 33, mother of four and wife of restaurant operator James S. "Cap" Brooks, and her mother-in-law, Mrs. Kate Lewis Brooks, 74.

Police said the victims were tied up by the gunman and shot after he spotted Brooks running to a nearby farmhouse to call help.

"You all think you are smart. Your husband was out there," authorities quoted the intruder as saying just prior to the shootings.

Kenneth Van Allen, in the Brooks home to give a music lesson, was injured in a scuffle with the intruder. Van Allen, 35, was hospitalized in Fredericksburg, 20 miles north of this town of 700, in Co.

Authorities said the gunman was admitted to the isolated home by Jeanne Brooks, 9, who met him outside and invited him in when the man asked for food.

Once inside, he produced a revolver. He tied up the two victims and the maid, Edna Mae Parker, 18, a Negro. Then he herded into the same room the four children — Jeanne, Mason, 7, and twin boys Lynn and Lewis, 5.

The younger Mrs. Brooks was to attend a banquet in Bowling Green Thursday night. When she failed to appear, people telephoned her husband to inquire about her.

Brooks telephoned home. Jeanne answered and talked evasively. Brooks rushed home. He spotted the gunman in the hall and Brooks fled for help. The gunman saw Brooks and then shot the women, police said.

Van Allen, meanwhile, had managed to work loose and attempted a break. The intruder grappled with him but the music teacher tore loose and ran from the house.

Van Allen got into his car and drove away as the gunman fired several shots at him. The slayer then left the house.

Soviet Pledges Utopia in '70

World's Best Living
Standard Promised

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet government today promised its people the highest living standards in the world by 1970.

The promise was made in a report on Premier Khrushchev's seven-year economic plan which was approved Wednesday by the Communist Party Central Committee.

The plan for the years 1959-1965 calls for an 80 per cent increase in Russian industrial production. This will enable the Communist bloc to produce more than half the world's industrial goods in 1965, compared with about one-third now, the report claimed.

This "will provide a real foundation for overtaking and outstripping per capita production in the United States" by 1970, according to the report.

By 1970 or possibly earlier, the report adds, "the U.S.S.R. will take first place in the world both for absolute volume of production and for per capita production, which will insure the highest living standards in the world."

Such economic success would prove the absolute superiority of communism over capitalism, the report declared.

The report will be delivered at the 21st party congress, scheduled for next January. At a date not yet announced it will be presented to the Supreme Soviet, Russia's parliament, for certain approval.

The seven-year plan was presented as part of a 15-year development program which "provides the necessary conditions to be created for completing the transition to communism." The report refrains from promising a date for the Soviet millennium of pure communism in which each contributes according to his ability and is rewarded only according to need.

The volume of state capital investments during the next seven years will almost equal capital investments in the 41 years of Communist rule, Khrushchev said.

At the same time he promised a better life to the more than 200 million Russians. The real incomes of factory and office workers will increase an average of 40 per cent and of collective farmers by no less than 40 per cent, the report said.

Improvements in pensions and health services plus alleviation of the housing shortage also were promised.

The official news agency Tass issued three versions of how this will be accomplished.

Avoiding flat commitment, two versions said a five-day work week "is suggested" for factory and office workers, who will number 66 million in 1965. A third version said that for those working six or seven hours a day, "a five-day working week, with two days off a week, is to be introduced" at an unspecified time, but presumably within the seven-year plan.

"The transition of factory and office workers to a six or seven-hour working day is to be completed by 1960," Tass said, and those with a seven-hour day will have a 40-hour week—meaning almost six work days—by 1962.

Slaying Fails To Halt Strike

Union Pickets Active
Although Leader Shot

CHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—Pickets marched again today at the Chester Cable Co., whose president was arrested Thursday in the slaying of a onetime bank robber who was leading a wildcat strike.

Thomas Murphy of Port Jervis, N.Y., leader of a group of employees seeking recognition for an independent union, said he and other workers were shocked by the shooting.

But he said they would continue to press for their objective.

The company president, Malcolm White, was in jail at Goshen on a first-degree murder charge, awaiting a hearing Dec. 1.

The victim of the shooting, Alfred F. Dugan, 52-year-old New Jersey labor organizer with a long criminal record, had been engaged several weeks in an effort to switch the firm's 140 employees from an AFL-CIO union to a small independent organization.

A wildcat strike was begun Monday by some workers, but plant production was continued by others who crossed picket lines.

Upon reaching the plant Thursday morning, White encountered Dugan. The two exchanged angry words and White shouted that he planned to reveal Dugan's record.

A short time later White drove away from the plant and Dugan followed in his own car. About half a mile away, White said, he noticed Dugan behind him and halted. Dugan also stopped and got out, White said.

White said he then drew his pistol and began firing at Dugan, hitting him.

A total of 30 per cent of the employees of the firm must petition for the election, before the NLRB will order the vote.

County's Charges Against Phone Firm Dismissed

Pickaway County's case against the Ohio Consolidated Telephone Co. for alleged unfair charges during the phone company's labor dispute has been dismissed without prejudice by the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio.

Approximately two years ago, County Common Pleas Judge William A. Mamer, then county prosecuting attorney, filed charges against Ohio Consolidated, with the PUCO with regard to alleged unfair charges for telephone rental during the period when a strike disrupted normal telephone service.

Judge Ammer's petition charged that county residents were paying full telephone bills for service that was far below normal.

"Consolidated's attorneys countered with the defense that although telephone service was below normal, the company was making every effort to provide the best and fastest service possible and that service was not completely halted," Judge Ammer stated today.

The PUCO upheld Consolidated's contention. An appeal to the Ohio Supreme Court is the final alternative.

County's Charges Against Phone Firm Dismissed

Pickaway County's case against the Ohio Consolidated Telephone Co. for alleged unfair charges during the phone company's labor dispute has been dismissed without prejudice by the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio.

Approximately two years ago, County Common Pleas Judge William A. M. mer, then county prosecuting attorney, filed charges against Ohio Consolidated, with the PUCO with regard to alleged unfair charges for telephone rental during the period when a strike disrupted normal telephone service.

Judge Ammer's petition charged that county residents were paying full telephone bills for service that was far below normal.

"Consolidated's attorneys countered with the defense that although telephone service was below normal, the company was making every effort to provide the best and fastest service possible and that service was not completely halted," Judge Ammer stated today.

The PUCO upheld Consolidated's contention. An appeal to the Ohio Supreme Court is the final alternative.

Jesus' Healing Ministry

CHRIST WENT ABOUT CITIES AND VILLAGES HEALING
THOSE WHO WERE SICK.

Scripture—Matthew 8:1-17; Mark 1:29-35.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL
IN LAST week's lesson on the Sermon on the Mount, we saw how Jesus preached the right and wrong way of living to please God and to make our lives fruitful and happy.
Now we turn to Christ's ministry of healing the sick.
As he came down from the mountain great multitudes greeted him. A poor man afflicted with leprosy came and worshipped him, saying, "Lord, if Thou wilt, Thou canst make me clean."—
Matthew 8:1-2.
Did Jesus run from the poor creature, afraid of the contagion from this most virulent of diseases, one in which the body becomes mutilated, and the sight dimmed, one from which men fled in terror? No. He "put forth His hand, and touched him, saying, I will; be thou clean. And immediately his leprosy was cleansed."—Matthew 8:3.

sick of the palsy, grievously tormented."—Matt. 8:6. Christ said
He would go and heal the boy, but the centurion said that he was a man of authority, having soldiers under him, who obey his orders, and he was not worthy to have Christ come under his roof.
"Speak the word only," he said,
"and my servant shall be healed."
For this evidence of his faith—of which Christ said He "had not found so great faith,"—He said to the centurion: "Go thy way; and as thou hast believed, so be it done unto thee." and the servant was healed that same hour. —
Matthew 8:5-13.
Entering into the home of Peter, Jesus found Peter's wife's mother in bed with a fever. He but "touched her hand, and the fever left her: and she arose, and ministered unto them."—Matthew 8:14.

When the evening came the people brought to Him many who

MEMORY VERSE

"And Jesus went about all the cities and villages . . . healing."—Matthew 9:35.

The children in the classes, Dr.
Wilbur W. Smith suggests, might be reminded that while medical science has made great advances, there are still people suffering from diseases for which no cure has yet been found.
In the United States we have two foundations for the eradication of this foul disease, the Leonard Wood Memorial for the Eradication of Leprosy (American Leprosy Foundation), and the Leprosy Mission. It was estimated, not so many years ago, that there were three million lepers in the world.

Jesus told the man to tell no one of his healing, but to "show thyself to the priest, and offer the gift that Moses commanded, for a testimony unto them." —
Matthe 8:4.
When the Lord entered Capernaum, a centurion (a Roman captain of 100 foot soldiers) said,
"Lord, my servant lieth at home were possessed of devils, which Christ cast out. "That it might be fulfilled which was spoken by Esaiahs the prophet, saying, Himself took our infirmities, and bare our sicknesses."—Matt. 8:16-17.

"And all the city, gathered together at the door."—Mark 1:33.

Jesus rose before the break of day and went to a "solitary place, and there prayed."—Mark 1:35.
Jesus felt the need for prayer to His Father, setting us the example to seek His help when we are in need of divine aid.

"Wherever Christ went, He brought blessing. . . . Wherever the Church of Christ has gone it has always given immediate attention to the healing of the body.
The first leprosis established were built by Christian missionaries, and the first doctors to reside among the savages of Africa and Central America were missionary physicians." writes Dr. Wilbur M.
Smith in Peloubet's Select Notes.

"Dr. Zhivago" Tells Red Story

It is no reflection upon the literary genius of Boris Pasternak to stress the political implications of his nomination for the 1958 Nobel Prize in Literature.

Neither does it detract from the monumental scope and style of his "Dr. Zhivago" to note the extraordinary circumstances of its preparation and publication—circumstances surely known to the Royal Swedish Academy of Literature.

Since 1902, this distinguished Nobel award in literature has been based technically upon a candidate's lifetime work. In that regard, Pasternak's poems have been acclaimed for years, and so have his

Red Spies Goof, Too

Severe criticism has been directed at the U. S. Central Intelligence Agency when it looked as though it had been caught short by events abroad—such as Sputnik or the Iraq revolt in July.

Now it seems as though the other side has its troubles along intelligence lines, too.

The story is now coming out of Europe that Russian Premier Khrushchev blew his top when he first learned through news channels of the successful cruise of the U. S. atomic submarine Nautilus beneath the Arctic icepack last summer.

Khrushchev wanted to know from his intelligence officials why the communists' vaunted worldwide net of secret agents had not been able to learn ahead of time about this epochal voyage, which, the irate translations, notably of Shakespeare.

But it was not until "Dr. Zhivago," a novel which he started after Stalin's death and completed in 1956, that Pasternak was accorded Nobel distinction.

"Dr. Zhivago" is indeed great literature from which flows a massive indictment of communism. What distinguishes it from other such appeals against human enslavement is that it was written in Soviet Russia by a Russian.

What is more, Pasternak's work was banned by his own government. The manuscript had to be printed first in Italy before the free world could read the truths which "Dr. Zhivago" tells so powerfully.

top communist pointed out, in time of war would have threatened the Soviet Union.

He is reported to have said: "Now the Americans can bomb us from the Arctic." He is said to have ordered a drastic shake-up of the RGU, Russia's external secret service.

The communists apparently are no more infallible at spying than the West is, even though it is their strong suit.

How To Prepare to Retire

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — Magazines today are full of articles on the evils of retirement. They're enough to frighten a man out of the desire to grow old. They make retirement sound more dangerous than Sunday driving.

Some people are always knocking a good thing, but we doubt that they'll ever make retirement really unpopular with the working classes.

The big peril seems to be that a fellow suddenly turns 64, is cut off the payroll, and doesn't know what to do with himself. He finds it hard to adjust to a new way of life.

The answer, of course, is simple. Start getting ready for retirement early in life, so when it does come it will find you ready.

Here are a few down-to-earth tips—the kind the magazines don't dare give you:

At 25 start borrowing money from your relatives and friends. If they are like most relatives and friends, it will take you at least 40 years of steady borrowing to build you up a really decent retirement fund.

Begin loafing on the job at 35, and loaf more each year. By the time you're 65 you'll be used to not working, and there'll be no sudden shock when you have to hang up the harness forever. If the boss objects, explain your program to him fully and honestly. He'll understand. He's probably doing the same thing himself.

Since most people spend most of their time making mountains out of molehills, be sure to lay in a good supply of molehills while you are young. You don't want to be caught short in your old age.

Doctors often advise retired people to take a nip before each meal to help their circulation. Why not start this form of medication earlier, so your system can get used to it? After 40 start the morning off with a bracing martini.

After 65 a man's chief form of exercise is criticizing his wife. But why wait? You might as well get in a few workouts with the old girl in advance. At 45 you can start telling her what's wrong with her, thus giving her 20 years to perfect herself before you retire and begin your full-time criticism.

After retirement a man needs less strenuous hobbies. Why not give up girl watching around 50, and take up tree watching? It is not only more restful. It is less expensive. Hint: Avoid watching pine trees—they're too stimulating. Pick an acorn and watch it become an oak.

At 55 give up things that excite or overload the circulatory system—such as fried foods, red-heads and politics.

At 65 the only thing a man can afford to give away is advice. But if you can, get rid of it before you retire—and save this later drain on your energy.

Anybody who adopts these simple steps will find it easy to adjust to retirement, when it comes, and live forever.

Well, anyway it will seem like forever.

Art Isn't for Art's Sake

By George Sokolsky

Rudolf Bing, who manages the Metropolitan Opera Company, is not a very explosive person. His problems have been comparatively simple ones, putting on new operas, arranging to build a new opera house, improving the personnel, increasing the number of Americans in the personnel, and doing more operas in English. As a matter of fact, he is singularly fortunate because the place is nearly always sold out.

However, dames will be dames and when a soprano who was born in Klover Hospital, New York and should know better, likes her publicity straight and in public, what can a mere man do?

In fact, Miss Callas, who is one of many Metropolitan sopranos, has decided that she is the best in the world, and seems to believe that the various opuses, to be vulgarly ungrammatical, cannot be sung without her. I, who have heard Farrar, know that they can be. The amazing fact about life is that one goes and another comes and that is true of me and thee, no matter how wonderful we may be. So Miss Callas got into an argument with the aforesaid Bing and what it came down to was, who is running the show, and he proved it by firing her.

It could be true in New York on Monday nights that anyone can run an opera house. For Monday night at the Metropolitan is a fashion show at which ladies wear their fineries, some of them borrowed for exhibition purposes, and gentlemen talk business. But then an opera house cannot limit itself to Monday nights. In fact, Bing showed his contempt for opening night by charging $40 a ticket which few music lovers could afford to pay. Next year, he ought to charge $100 a ticket for opening night which has become a bazaar.

However, to get back to Miss Callas she is a pretty good soprano but nobody deserves it at much aggravation. After all, opera is a play and a play has a cast and one player is as important as another in the sense that if one sings out of tune or jostles his colleague at the wrong moment, the whole show can go bad, like that time Martinelli ate something poisonous and came down with it right on the stage. Also there is an orchestra and a conductor and if the conductor misses the beat or forgets where he is and puts rock-n-roll right in the middle of Gotterdammerung, that can knock Wagner right on the head.

So it has to be a whole performance and no one can do it alone. The star system was very good when there were stars: Caruso, Farrar, Sembrich, Scotti, de Reszke—names come to mind and flow on and on—but a star must also be a humble character and remember that a property man can make her look ridiculous by putting the wrong prop in the wrong place.

Miss Callas, who is an American girl despite all the raging in foreign tongues, should know this. She has battled her way to the front pages in many parts of the world, but that is not what anyone hires her for. She, like all other so-called artists, is hired, like stagehands, prop men, chorus girls and dancers, to put on a show for the customer who pays his money to see it. The notion that because the show is sung in some foreign tongue changes the terms of the relationship between customer and management, is a revival of the art for art's sake theory which went out in the Victorian era and only recovers occasionally in such places as Greenwich Village and among retired merchants, bankers, and other aged gentlemen who take up hobbies to avoid arthritis. A working artist has his price and if he is any good, gets it.

I go to the opera on Saturday afternoons when the atmosphere is calm and the glitter or diamonds non-competitive. We are never disturbed by our neighbors buying and selling a skyscraper while Mimi is dying. Let her die without commerce, say we. That is art for art's sake.

As for Miss Callas, from what the girls tell me, and this is strictly confidential, she does not burn so fiercely in private as in public and is quite a nice girl whose friends like her. Too bad, she does not limit herself to singing.

Misguided Bears Wreck Phone Poles

WARREN, N.H. (AP) — Bears are wrecking New England Telephone Co. poles here in a misguided search for honey.

The company says the bears hear the humming of the wires and believe the noise is caused by bees.

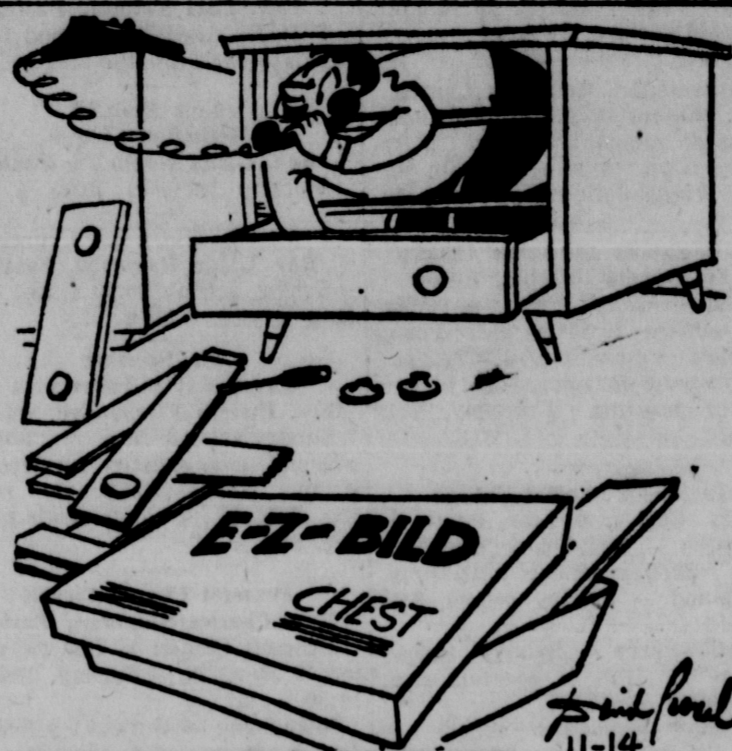

Some 50 poles are under attack, Harold M. Robinson, the company's plant personnel supervisor, said.

"Almost all of them show evidence of bear visitations but the worst ones have been culled out to a depth of two or three inches," he said. "They stand on their hind legs and swat at the poles with their front feet, about five feet above the ground."

Let Doctor Check Arthritis

By Herman N. Bundesen, M. D.
You get a pain in your knee, or maybe your elbow or wrist hurts when you move them. And you think, "It's rheumatoid arthritis!"

Well, don't be so sure. Even we doctors can't diagnose a case of rheumatoid arthritis just like that.

It's natural, I suppose, for many persons to think about the nation's Number 1 Crippler the minute a joint becomes painful. This is especially true when rheumatoid arthritis already is in the family, since there is a specific hereditary tendency in the disease.

But a painful joint isn't enough evidence that the trouble is this disabling form of arthritis. In fact, the American Rheumatism Association lists a total of 11 symptoms.

They are:

1. Morning stiffness.
2. Pain on motion or tenderness in at least one joint as observed by a physician.
3. Swelling in at least one joint as observed by a physician.
4. Swelling observed by a physician of at least one other joint.
5. Simultaneous swelling of the same joint on both sides of the body as observed by a physician.
6. Appearance of nodules or bony protrusions in certain joint areas.
7. X-ray changes typical of rheumatoid arthritis showing bony decalcification of the involved joints.
8. A positive sheep cell agglutination test.
9. A specific change in the joint fluid.
10. Characteristic cellular changes in the synovial membrane that lines the involved joints.
11. Characteristic cellular changes in any nodules present.

The presence of five of these symptoms for at least six weeks establishes a diagnosis of definite rheumatoid arthritis. The diagnosis is probable rheumatoid arthritis when three of the symptoms are present for at least four weeks, and possible rheumatoid arthritis when two symptoms persist for at least three weeks.

This doesn't mean, of course, that your doctor has to wait until five symptoms develop before he begins treating you. But it does prove that it is extremely difficult and dangerous for you to diagnose your own illness.

Question and Answer

A. B.: Every morning I awaken with a swelling under my eyes. What could cause this condition? I am twenty-four years of age.

Answer: Puffiness or swelling under the eyelids may come from lack of rest and sleep. It might also be the result of some type of kidney trouble.

You are in need of careful examination by your physician to determine the cause; then proper treatment can be suggested. Delay may be harmful.

Tokyo Tower May Boost Suicide Rate

TOKYO (AP)—City authorities fear Tokyo's new television tower, rising like a great steel needle above the skyline, may become a fresh lure for suicide-bent Japanese.

The Tokyo tower, higher than Paris' Eiffel Tower, claimed its first victim this month, 47 days before it was due to be officially opened. A 21-year-old thwarted lover leaped to his death.

In Japan, the most suicide-conscious country in the world, centuries of tradition have made jitsui-suicide—the honorable way out—from a Samurai warrior classically carving himself to death with a sword to a housewife jumping in front of an electric train.

Two years ago, 21,778 tormented Japanese—59 a day—killed themselves. More than 20,000 have died willfully and violently every year since 1953, the world's highest rate.

"We have an aptitude for death," said a young Japanese. "I guess we just don't consider life too important. And here, unlike other countries, there is no disgrace in suicide."

Kamikaze pilots—some 5,000 deliberately killed themselves in human bomb attacks in World War II—started a new craze. Blowing oneself up with dynamite was fashionable for a time after the war.

But less spectacular methods like poison, drowning, shooting or wrist slashing came the majority deaths. Hari kiri—disemboweling by knife—is rare these days.

McCoy Murder Trial Slated For Dec. 8

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—Russell McCoy of Zanesville, who has been in jail nearly 21 months, will go on trial for first degree murder Dec. 8.

The charges stemmed from the slaying two years ago of two Uniontown grocers during a hold-up. The 23-year-old McCoy admitted taking part in the holdup when he testified against another Zanesville man, Harry Dale Bundy, in a trial here.

Bundy, charged on the basis of McCoy's statement to police, was acquitted.

Authorities say McCoy also had admitted killing a half-sister, Louise See, and her husband, Lloyd, near Zanesville during an argument in February, 1957.

Common Pleas Judge George N. Graham set the trial date after McCoy wrote to him asking quick action.

Tax Appeal Board Action Upheld by 10th District Court

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The 10th District Court of Appeals says it is perfectly legal for the State Board of Tax Appeals to assess the taxable value of real estate in all of Ohio's 88 counties.

This reverses a decision by Franklin County Common Pleas Judge Dana F. Reynolds.

The appellate court, in its ruling Wednesday, said the Legislature may properly delegate quasi-legislative power to administrative agencies after first laying down the policy to be followed.

The court added that "Nothing could be more reasonable in the field of taxation than to establish a policy of uniform assessments of real property, for the burden of disproportionate taxation is intolerable."

The issue involved was the transfer of authority from county auditors to the Board of Tax Appeals. County auditors had been determining taxable values of real estate until the board took over the job.

Nixon Gives Talk from Dental Chair

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon made a stirring address on the American way of life to an audience of five this week.

His platform was a dentist's chair.

Nixon, here for a vacation, was under anesthesia to have a badly infected wisdom tooth removed. His dentists, Dr. Jack H. Beckwith and Dr. William Ashley, said the vice president's speech was nonpartisan.

After discussing Americanism, Nixon had high praise for his wife's courageous behavior when the two were mobbed by anti-American elements in Venezuela.

The vice president had told the dentists he didn't think the intravenous drug used on him would be effective.

After the extraction he said he knew "that stuff wouldn't work. Are you going to use some more of it?"

It was hard to convince him the tooth already was out.

Three nurses also attended Nixon. One, Mrs. Jay Thompson, a hitherto staunch Democrat, called him a "wonderful, charming man."

Asked if his charm affected her party loyalty, she said: "I'm wavering."

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—It probably didn't cause a ripple in the motion picture industry that the Erwin Street School PTA of Van Nuys, Calif., passed a resolution condemning the current movie ads.

But it's a straw in the wind, Hollywood. The film ads seem to some parents to be going overboard in stressing the sensational and horrific. Any film with even a hint of sex is hailed as a saga of "primitive passions" and "youth gone wild." Where will it all end?

Take "The Last Hurrah" is another example. It's a fascinating study of Boston politics. Some of the ads feature Jeffrey Hunter and Diane Foster in a warm embrace and the blurs hint of a hot romance. The truth is that they are married in the film and the sex content in the script is nil.

Also, the billboards show Spencer Tracy as red-haired instead of white-thatched as he appears in the picture. Is this because white-haired old men might not appeal to the young audience?

Take a look at the "Damn Yankees" ad.

Handless Workman Shunned by Jury, To Seek New Trial

CLEVELAND (AP)—Attorneys for a 45-year-old workman who lost his hands in an industrial accident want his $500,000 damage suit tried again.

A jury ruled against Henry Joseph Degonia of Granite City, Ill. in U.S. District Court Wednesday. He had sued Federal Machine & Welder Co. of Warren, manufacturers of a hydraulic press in which Degonia's hands were crushed. They were later amputated. The suit charged negligence and carelessness on the company's part.

Degonia's employer, the A. O. Smith Co. of Granit City, was dismissed as a defendant in the suit. Counsel for the plaintiff said a new trial will be sought. If that fails the decision will be appealed to a higher court.

Tokyo Tower May Boost Suicide Rate

TOKYO (AP)—City authorities fear Tokyo's new television tower, rising like a great steel needle above the skyline, may become a fresh lure for suicide-bent Japanese.

The Tokyo tower, higher than Paris' Eiffel Tower, claimed its first victim this month, 47 days before it was due to be officially opened. A 21-year-old thwarted lover leaped to his death.

In Japan, the most suicide-conscious country in the world, centuries of tradition have made jitsui-suicide — the honorable way out—from a Samurai warrior classically carving himself to death with a sword to a housewife jumping in front of an electric train.

Two years ago, 21,778 tormented Japanese—59 a day—killed themselves. More than 26,000 have died fully and violently every year since 1953, the world's highest rate.

"We have an aptitude for death," said a young Japanese. "I guess we just don't consider life too important. And here, unlike other countries, there is no disgrace in suicide."

Kamikaze pilots — some 5,000 deliberately killed themselves in human bomb attacks in World War II — started a new craze. Blowing oneself up with dynamite was fashionable for a time after the war.

But less spectacular methods like poison, drowning, shooting or wrist slashing cause the majority deaths. Hari kiri—disemboweling by knife—is rare these days.

Local Hunters Ready Guns For Opening Day Tomorrow

Saturday looms as a big day for local hunters who will march to the fields in search of rabbits and pheasants to mark the opening of hunting season here.

The local nimrods will be a small part of Ohio's expected 650,000 hunters. Here and in other parts of the state, the rabbit population seems to be equal to last year and indications point to a greater number of pheasants.

The pheasant crop in Pickaway County looks good, according to Game Protector Clarence Francis. One reason for this probably can be attributed to the more than 400 young birds released here this year. Rabbits also seem to be numerous.

As stipulated by law, shooting this year can't commence until 5 a. m. The first hunt will be at 5 p. m.

DECEMBER 6 will mark the closing of pheasant season. Rabbit hunting will continue through January 3. On pheasants, the daily bag limit is two. Cock birds only are legal game. Hunters are allowed four rabbits a day. Hunters are cautioned to observe gun safety rules and have permission to hunt when taking to the field.

Last year, 68 rabbit and pheasant hunters were shot by other hunters, or themselves. For all game species there was a total of 118 hunters shot and 15 of the casualties were fatal.

It's anticipated that 90 per cent of the nimrods will hunt on private lands opening day. The Ohio Wildlife Division advises that all hunters request permission from the farmer or land owner for hunting privileges.

In Ohio, sportsmen who do not have access to private land can try their luck on more than 400,000 acres of state property. Three Divisions of the Department of Natural Resources provide public hunting acreage. They are Wildlife, with 46 areas totaling 58,177 acres; Parks, with 30 areas totaling 63,987 acres and Forestry, with 17 areas totaling 154,457 acres.

In addition, the 105,000-acre Wayne National Forest in southern Ohio is open to public hunting. By lease agreement with the Wildlife Division 800 acres in Hamilton County will be available to hunters just north of Miamitown.

OTHER agreements between the Division and private concerns include the following areas for public hunting: A v o n d a l e Wildlife Area, 1,000 acres, Muskingum County, with lifetime permit issued by Ohio Power Company or District Wildlife Offices; K a u l Wildlife Area, 1,000 acres, Jefferson County, with lifetime permit issued by District Wildlife Offices, and Clark County Hunting Area, where 900 acres adjoining the Springfield Municipal Airport are open to hunting by permit issued only at a checking station on the area.

Other places where hunting permits are required: Delaware Wildlife Area, 7,387 acres, Delaware County, one-day permit required from Nov. 15 to Jan. 15, obtained at area; Spring Valley Wildlife Area, 800 acres, Warren and Greene Counties, one-day permit required from Nov. 15 to Jan. 15, obtained at area; Killdeer Plains Wildlife Area, 5,585 acres, Wyandot County, one-day permit required Nov. 15, 17, and 18, obtained at area, and Maumee Forest Area, 2,945 acres, Henry, Fulton and Lucas Counties, one-day permit required Nov. 15, 17 and 18, obtained at area.

In all, there are 111 places in the state where a sportsman can hunt without fear of trespassing. This does not include 48 licensed commercial shooting preserves where hunters pay for private hunting and experience more shooting under extended seasons.

The largest concentration of public hunting areas is situated in southeastern Ohio—out of the pheasant belt but in good rabbit country.

Detailed information pinpointing Ohio's public hunting places is being disseminated to hunters in a hunting and trapping guide, issued with the sale of hunting licenses. Sportsmen also may obtain the guide free by writing: Information and Education Section, Department of Natural Resources, 1500 Dublin Road, Columbus 12, Ohio.

Redskins notch second victory

The Kingston junior high basketball unit won a double overtime victory Wednesday afternoon from Centralia, 32-30.

Going into the final quarter the Redskins held a 25-15 lead, but fell apart in this stanza as Centralia rallied and tied up the ball game at 30-30.

Kingston jumped to a 10-2 first quarter lead and led 19-8 at halftime. Leading Kingston to its second straight win were Russell Carper and Harold Albert with 11 and 10 points respectively.

Breeding notched 13 points for the Bulldogs, followed by Miller with eight. Kingston's Roger Hammond dropped in the winning bucket. The Redskins next contest is at St. Peters, Chillicothe.

SPORTS

The Circleville Herald, Friday, Nov. 14, 1958 7
Circleville, Ohio

Pirates May Play Role of Darkhorse

The Pickaway Pirates open their 1958-59 basketball season November 21 at Kingston. With five returning lettermen, Coach Charles Baxter's unit could be rated a Pickaway County League darkhorse.

Last year Pickaway finished the year with a 4-14 record, tying for eighth in the league with a 3-7 record. The Pirates scored a total of 817 points during the regular season for a 48.1 offensive point average.

Pickaway allowed opponents 958 points for an average of 56.3 points per game. Offensively it ranked ninth in the county and fourth defensively.

Six seniors are desperately battling for the varsity starting five. They are Gail Wolfe, 6', center; Nathan Wilson, 6-1, center and forward; Harry Lee, 5-11, forward; Dave Petty, 5-8, guard;

JERRY ANDERSON, 5-11, guard, and Dwight Newhouse, 5-11, forward. Lee, a transfer student from Walnut, is the only non-lettermen.

Other varsity members are Charles Kerns, 6' senior, forward; Bill Harnal, 5-9 junior, forward; Bruce Wilson, 5-11 junior, forward, and Charles Adkins, 6-1 senior, forward.

The plentiful reserve squad will be led by returning lettermen Ralph England, 5-9, New Musselman, 5-8, and Norman Wilson, 6'. All are sophomores.

Other sophomores are Charles Chapman; Jim Hinton; Bob Gose, 6'; Ron Jacobs, 5-10; Earl Haddox, 5-9; Pete Mowery, 6', and Jim Lavick, 5-8.

Freshmen include Dean Mills; Jim Stauffer; Richard Dean, 5-8; Brad Huffines, 5-6; Ronnie Huffer; Jim Justice; George Miller; Kenneth Moss, and Luther Johnson, 5-3.

Managers are sophomores Dale Wolfe, Eugene Dean and Bill Parker and freshman, Paul Bower. Varsity cheerleaders are seniors Janet Search, Nancy Wilson, Doris Azzell, Janet Grissom and Patty Moats.

Reserve cheerleaders are sophomores Ann Smith and Sharon Sharret and freshman, Janet Bower. According to Coach Baxter this year Pickaway will lose eight varsity players and all varsity cheerleaders.

Tiger Cagers To Dress in New Uniforms

Circleville High School's Varsity Basketball team not only has a new head coach this season but also a new set of uniforms.

Dick Snouffer, new head coach, said the new uniforms conform to regulations of the South Central Ohio League. This year the varsity cagers will wear dark suits for road games and light colored dress for those at home.

These new suits will make their first appearance at Athens, November 28, and at home December 5, against Franklin Heights.

Circleville's new uniforms for away tilts feature red shirts trimmed in white and black with white numbers on a black background. The red pants have a black insert and are trimmed in black and white.

THE home uniforms consist of white shirts trimmed in red and black with red numerals on a black background. The white trunks are edged in black with a red insert.

Since the varsity has these new uniforms the reserve squads inherit two sets of attire—one for home games and another for road encounters.

Going into the final quarter the Redskins held a 25-15 lead, but fell apart in this stanza as Centralia rallied and tied up the ball game at 30-30.

Kingston jumped to a 10-2 first quarter lead and led 19-8 at halftime. Leading Kingston to its second straight win were Russell Carper and Harold Albert with 11 and 10 points respectively.

VFW, River Oil, Dunlaps Gain Local Cage Loop Wins

Veterans of Foreign Wars, River Oil and Dunlaps captured wins in the second week of play in the Circleville Independent Basketball League last night at the local coliseum.

VFW took the measure of Kirk Furniture, 48-38, River Oil handed Yingling Hybrids a 75-61 lacing and Dunlaps edged Ashville, 55-49.

VFW gained its second victory in two starts behind 14 points by "Babe" Rhoades and 11 by Ducky Smith. Jack Young and Eddie Tomlinson each had eight.

Vincent was high for Kirks' with nine and Kirk had seven.

VFW led throughout, holding a 33-13 advantage at halftime and a 38-23 third quarter margin.

River Oil had four men scoring in double figures. Hummel was high with 17, Brown had 16, Medric 14 and Hannah 11. Hinton of Yinglings was high scorer for the evening, posting 25 points in the losing effort. Valentine aided the Yingling cause with 10.

RO commanded a 33-19 intermission lead and increased this margin to 52-34 at the three-quarter mark.

Dunlap's victory was a second half effort which saw the Williamsport cagers overcome a 22-19 intermission deficit. The winners caught fire in the third quarter to go ahead 40-23 and managed to hold on in the final stanza.

James and Wardell with 14 points each were high for Dunlaps. Matzger chipped in with 11. Riegel paced Ashville with 16 and Miller had nine.

Anthony Favored To Top Sonny Ray

NEW YORK (AP) — One hot fighter is bound to be cooled off tonight when favored Tony Anthony takes on Sonny Ray of Chicago at Madison Square Garden in a television 10-rounder.

Anthony, the top light heavyweight contender, has won six straight fights this year, five by knockouts. Ray, ranked sixth by Ring and 10th by the NBA has swept nine in a row.

Tall Tony is 3-1 to keep his streak alive.

It's a risky fight for the 23-year-old New Yorker. He'll collect about $5,000 just to keep busy. A defeat by the comparatively obscure Ray would be damaging to Tony's lightweight position and his heavyweight ambitions. A victory would add nothing.

In Ohio, sportsmen who do not have access to private land can try their luck on more than 400,000 acres of state property. Three Divisions of the Department of Natural Resources provide public hunting acreage. They are Wildlife, with 46 areas totaling 58,177 acres; Parks, with 30 areas totaling 63,987 acres and Forestry, with 17 areas totaling 154,457 acres.

In addition, the 105,000-acre Wayne National Forest in southern Ohio is open to public hunting. By lease agreement with the Wildlife Division 800 acres in Hamilton County will be available to hunters just north of Miamitown.

OTHER agreements between the Division and private concerns include the following areas for public hunting: Avondale Wildlife Area, 1,000 acres, Muskingum County, with lifetime permit issued by Ohio Power Company or District Wildlife Office; Kau Wildlife Area, 1,000 acres, Jefferson County, with lifetime permit issued by District Wildlife Office, and Clark County Hunting Area, where 900 acres adjoining the Springfield Municipal Airport are open to hunting by permit issued only at a checking station on the area.

Other places where hunting permits are required: Delaware Wildlife Area, 7,387 acres, Delaware County, one-day permit required from Nov. 15 to Jan. 15, obtained at area; Spring Valley Wildlife Area, 800 acres, Warren and Greene Counties, one-day permit required from Nov. 15 to Jan. 15 obtained at area; Killdeer Plains Wildlife Area, 5,585 acres, Wyandot County, one-day permit required Nov. 15, 17, and 18, obtained at area, and Maumee Forest Area, 2,945 acres, Henry, Fulton and Lucas Counties, one-day permit required Nov. 15, 17 and 18, obtained at area.

In all, there are 111 places in the state where a sportsman can hunt without fear of trespassing. This does not include 48 licensed commercial shooting preserves where hunters pay for private hunting and experience more shooting under extended seasons.

The largest concentration of public hunting areas is situated in southeastern Ohio—out of the pheasant belt but in good rabbit country.

Detailed information pinpointing Ohio's public hunting places is being disseminated to hunters in a hunting and trapping guide, issued with the sale of hunting licenses. Sportsmen also may obtain the guide free by writing: Information and Education Section, Department of Natural Resources, 1500 Dublin Road, Columbus 12, Ohio.

Pirates May Play Role of Darkhorse

The Pickaway Pirates open their 1958-59 basketball season November 21 at Kingston. With five returning lettermen, Coach Charles Baxter's unit could be rated a Pickaway County league darkhorse.

Last year Pickaway finished the year with a 4-14 record, tying for eighth in the league with a 3-7 record. The Pirates scored a total of 817 points during the regular season for a 48.1 offensive point average.

Pickaway allowed opponents 958 points for an average of 56.3 points per game. Offensively it ranked ninth in the county and fourth defensively.

Six seniors are desperately battling for the varsity starting five. They are Gail Wolfe, 6', center; Nathan Wilson, 6-11, center and forward; Harry Lee, 5-11, forward; Dave Petty, 5-8, guard;

JERRY ANDERSON, 5-11, guard, and Dwight Newhouse, 5-11, forward. Lee, a transfer student from Walnut, is the only non-lettermen.

Other varsity members are Charles Kerns, 6' senior, forward; Bill Harrah, 5-9 junior, guard; Bruce Wilson, 5-11 junior, forward, and Charles Adkins, 6-1 senior, forward.

The plentiful reserve squad will be led by returning lettermen Ralph England, 5-9, New Musselman, 5-8, and Norman Wilson, 6'. All are sophomores.

Other sophomores are Charles Chapman; Jim Hinton; Bob Gose, 6'; Ron Jacobs, 5-10; Earl Haddox, 5-9; Pete Mowery, 6', and Jim Lavick, 5-8.

Freshmen include Dean Mills; Jim Stauffer; Richard Dean, 5-8; Brad Huffines, 5-6; Ronnie Huffer; Jim Justice; George Miller; Kenneth Moss, and Luther Johnson, 5-3.

Reserve cheerleaders are sophomores Ann Smith and Sharon Sharret and freshman, Janet Bower. According to Coach Baxter this year Pickaway will lose eight varsity players and all varsity cheerleaders.

Tiger Cagers To Dress in New Uniforms

Circleville High School's Varsity Basketball team not only has a new head coach this season but also a new set of uniforms.

Dick Snouffer, new head coach, said the new uniforms conform to regulations of the South Central Ohio League. This year the varsity cagers will wear dark suits for road games and light colored dress for those at home.

These new suits will make their first appearance at Athens, November 28, and at home December 3, against Franklin Heights.

Circleville's new uniforms for away tilts feature red shirts trimmed in white and black with white numbers on a black background. The red pants have a black insert and are trimmed in black and white.

THE home uniforms consist of white shirts trimmed in red and black with red numerals on a black background. The white trunks are edged in black with a red insert. Since the varsity has these new uniforms the reserve squads inherit two sets of attire—one for home games and another for road encounters.

Redskins Notch Second Victory

The Kingston junior high basketball unit won a double overtime victory Wednesday afternoon from Centralia, 32-30.

Going into the final quarter the Redskins held a 25-15 lead, but fell apart in this stanza as Centralia rallied and tied up the ball game at 30-30.

Kingston jumped to a 10-2 first quarter lead and led 19-8 at half-time. Leading Kingston to its second straight win were Russell Carpenter and Harold Albert with 11 and 10 points respectively.

Bredin notched 13 points for the Bulldogs, followed by Miller with eight. Kingston's Roger Hammond dropped in the winning bucket. The Redskins next contest is at St. Peters, Chillicothe.

VFW, River Oil, Dunlaps Gain Local Cage Loop Wins

Veterans of Foreign Wars, River Oil and Dunlaps captured wins in the second week of play in the Circleville Independent Basketball League last night at the local coliseum.

VFW took the measure of Kirk Furniture, 48-38, River Oil handed Yingling Hybrids a 75-61 lacing and Dunlaps edged Ashville, 55-49.

VFW gained its second victory in two starts behind 14 points by "Babe" Rhoades and 11 by Ducky Smith. Jack Young and Eddie Tomlinson each had eight.

Vincent was high for Kirk's with nine and Kirk had seven.

VFW led throughout, holding a 33-13 advantage at halftime and a 38-23 third quarter margin.

River Oil had four men scoring in double figures. Hummel was high with 17, Brown had 16, Medric 14 and Hannah 11. Hinton of Yinglings was high scorer for the evening, posting 25 points in the losing effort. Valentine aided the Yingling cause with 10.

RO commanded a 33-19 intermission lead and increased this margin to 52-34 at the three-quarter mark.

Dunlap's victory was a second half effort which saw the Williamsport cagers overcome a 22-19 intermission deficit. The winners caught fire in the third quarter to go ahead 40-28 and managed to hold on in the final stanza.

James and Wardell with 14 points each were high for Dunlaps. Maltzer chipped in with 11. Riegel paced Ashville with 16 and Miller had nine.

Anthony Favored To Top Sonny Ray

NEW YORK (AP) — One hot fighter is bound to be cooled off tonight when favored Tony Anthony takes on Sonny Ray of Chicago at Madison Square Garden in a television 10-rounder.

Anthony, the top light heavyweight contender, has won six straight fights this year, five by knockouts. Ray, ranked sixth by Ring and 10th by the NBA has swept nine in a row.

Tall Tony is 3-1 to keep his streak alive.

It's a risky fight for the 23-year-old New Yorker. He'll collect about $5,000 just to keep busy. A defeat by the comparatively obscure Ray would be damaging to Tony's lightweight position and his heavyweight ambitions. A victory would add nothing.

After This Weekend, Ohio Grid War Tapers Off Sharply

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Plenty of action is on tap Saturday for Ohio's college gridder as the 1958 campaign wanes. After the weekend's 20-game program only five tilts remain on the slate, with Miami at Cincinnati dropping the curtain Thanksgiving Day.

Ohio State's underdog Bucks, their offense chilled in the last three games, go against Iowa at Iowa City. The angles are numerous.

1. Iowa has the Big Ten title and Rose Bowl bid wrapped up.

2. Ohio hasn't scored a point against Iowa in its last two trips to the tall corn country.

3. Only twice before has a Woody Hayes team gone three games in a row without a win—and a tie or loss could set a new, and unpleasant, record for him.

4. Ohio must win, or Ohio faces the poorest season, record-wise, since Hayes took over in 1951 and compiled a 4-3-2 mark.

The Bucks will be without the services of Quarterback Frank Kremblas as they go against the Hawkeyes who have a wide edge in statistics, both on offense and defense.

While Ohio is scrapping with its back to the wall, the home folk have plenty of action to view.

Among the big ones on the Buckeye gridiron are Marshall at Bowling Green, Western Michigan at Kent State, Denison at Ohio Wesleyan, Muskingum at Mount Union, Wooster at Oberlin, Otterbein at Capital, Western Reserve at Case, Dayton at Miami, Baldwin-Wallace at Akron, Louisville at Ohio University, Grove City at Hiram, Heidelberg at Findlay (night), and Youngstown at Toledo (night).

Several Ohio schools go outside the border for their closing games. Among them are John Carroll at Allegheny, Cincinnati at Marquette, Xavier at Kentucky, Marietta at Bethany, Central State at Waynesburg, and Ashland at Manchester.

Following Saturday's contests, those still on the slate are: Friday, Nov. 21—Baldwin-Wallace at West Chester State.

Saturday, Nov. 22—Michigan at Ohio State, Dayton at Detroit, Washington & Lee at Wittenberg.

Thursday, Nov. 27—Miami at Cincinnati.

Protestantism Hurt by Own 'Freedom'

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Protestantism is a victim of its own greatest virtue—freedom—asserts a prominent churchman.

Bishop J. Gordon Howard of the Evangelical United Brethren Church, Pittsburgh, says many evils and shortcomings sprang from the fragmentation of Protestantism.

In a speech Thursday night before the assembly of the Ohio Council of Churches, Bishop Howard said:

"Our sin is not in having convictions of our own but in denying others the right to theirs. This was the sin of the ancient Pharisees . . . The Protestant drive for freedom must be matched by a corresponding drive for unity."

Bishop Howard, a past president of the Ohio Council, added:

The assembly of the Ohio Council of Churches is the policy making body of the group and is composed of delegates from member denominations.

Mrs. Robert R. Vance of Worthington was elected president and chairman of the assembly.

Other officers elected were Dr. William K. Messmer of Dayton, first vice president; Dr. Lance Webb, second vice president; Dr. J. Dallas Jenkins, recording secretary, and Robert W. Newlon, treasurer.

Drs. Webb and Jenkins and Mr. Newlon are from Columbus.

Frogmen Training Creates Interest Among Residents

According to BM-1 Vance Wykle, U. S. Naval Recruiting Officer here, many inquiries have been received in regards to the Naval Underwater Demolition team personnel (frogmen).

Wykle today stated that both officer and enlisted personnel are all volunteers. There are no special requirements for this duty in regard to height or weight, but a principal requirement being that applicants must be in good physical condition.

"Applicants don't even have to be swimmers", Wykle stated. UDT officials state that some of their best men—swimmers that now can travel for miles in rough seas and through treacherous currents—could not swim the length of a 50-yard pool when beginning their training.

Each year approximately 150 volunteers of such varied ratings as electronics technicians, stewards and hospital corpsmen turn up at the two training bases for UDT personnel at the Naval Amphibious Bases, Little Creek, Virginia, and Coronado, California.

SEVERAL officers are usually included in this group. About 15 per cent of these men are immediately screened out for either physical or mental reasons. The remainder start on a 14-week course of the toughest training ever devised.

In JDT training, the most rugged part of it comes first—a nightmarish, grueling six-day endurance test aptly called Hell Week. During this period the men subsist on K rations.

For the six days and nights of Hell Week the trainees are subjected to every trial of stamina and nerves their resourceful instructors can devise. Long marches are made through swamps, mud, surf and jungle growth each day, preceded by a three-mile run at dawn.

All during each day explosive charges are detonated without warning around them,

Governor Calls Off Execution of Pair

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. C. William O'Neill today spared two deaf mute brothers from death in Ohio's electric chair tonight.

He commuted their death sentences to life imprisonment. The governor acted less than 12 hours before the pair was scheduled for execution in Ohio Penitentiary.

The Ohio Supreme Court recently turned down their appeals.

The governor conferred with their mother and other relatives before reaching his decision.

O'Neill did not offer any comment in handing down his decision.

The brothers, Joseph Buza, 21, and Bert, 17, were convicted of the first-degree murder of Margaret Denham, 76, operator of a confectionery and filling station in Barton, Belmont County. The slaying occurred April 10, 1957.

The Belmont County prosecutor said the woman was stabbed 18 times and had been stomped and kicked in the face and back.

The slaying followed attempts by the store owner to recover about $100 she gave the boys. They obtained the money by cashing worthless checks at her store.

At a recent informal clemency hearing conducted by the Ohio Pardon and Parole Commission, Prosecutor William H. Irwin said, "I don't suppose there could be a more brutal murder."

He said the brothers went to Wheeling, W. Va. and attended a dance after the slaying.

Attorneys for the boys said that because of their physical defects the boys had no contacts with schools, churches and other children during their formative years.

They claimed the boys were victims of their affliction.

The boys were sentenced to death a year ago Saturday by Belmont County Common Pleas Ross Michener after a jury withheld a recommendation for mercy.

Their execution was originally scheduled for last March 10, but appeals stayed it. The Ohio Supreme Court recently turned down their final plea and set the new execution date.

usually so close the trainees are showered with rocks and other debris.

The UDT candidates are sent through underground lined with booby traps, and harassed with explosives until they are afraid to move. Then the ground is blown out from under them to get them started again.

Early morning swims, each progressively longer, are made in overcoat weather. As late as early December, trainees take daily plunges in the chilly Atlantic wearing only swim trunks.

At the end of Hell Week about 40 per cent of the trainees have been dropped. UDT officials know what they are doing by subjecting candidates to such harsh treatment at the beginning of the training period.

They determine right from the start those men who are not mentally and physically equipped men who probably would eventually fail to measure up to UDT requirements.

At the end of the training period, the candidate must be able to swim at least two miles in a choppy sea without any type of special equipment. By the time the "graduates" receive their swim fins about 65 of the original 150 applicants remain.

U.S. Hearing Faces Piqua Embezzler

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—D. Omer Tobias of Piqua, who authorities say financed his expensive antique collection with the $375,000 he allegedly embezzled from his firm, was brought to Dayton yesterday to face arraignment in federal court Nov. 20.

Tobias, 58-year-old bachelor, was arrested by FBI agents Oct. 27 at Salem, N. J., after having fled Ohio 13 days before. He was taken to Montgomery County jail here upon his return from Salem and was held under $50,000 bond pending arraignment.

He is accused of at least 20 counts of causing stolen checks to be transported across state lines.

The FBI said Tobias allegedly embezzled $375,000 from Hobart Manufacturing Co. in Troy where he worked in the export department for 38 years.

They said he deposited company checks ranging from $2,000 to $12,000 in his personal account with Guarantee Trust Co. in New York City. The checks were to have been placed in the company's account with Guarantee Trust to pay commissions for its overseas agents.

An audit of the company's books disclosed the alleged embezzlement, between June, 1955, and last Oct. 13.

Each of the 20 counts lodged against him carries a maximum penalty of $10,000 fine or 10 years' imprisonment.

SANDUSKY, Ohio (AP) — The Erie County Grand Jury today indicted John M. Hines Jr. of Detroit on seven counts of second-degree manslaughter. He was the wrong-way driver and sole survivor of an Ohio Turnpike crash in which seven persons died last Friday night near Norwalk.

All six were killed, plus Mrs. Claudia Brooks, 45, a passenger in the Hines car.

The 41-year-old Hines admitted he was drinking when his car — headed east in a westbound lane — crashed into a vehicle carrying six members of a Jamestown, N. Y., family, including four children.

Ohio Farmer Says:

d-CON STOPPED RATS FROM EATING ME OUT OF HOUSE AND HOME!

Read What Lowell Geringer, Of Wauseon, Ohio, Has To Say About d-CON:

"Rats were a real problem with me. I had to get rid of them and so I turned to d-CON. I'd been using another rat-killer, but d-CON sure did the job. d-CON gets but d-CON really kills rats. Let me tell you d-CON stopped rats from eating me out of house and home!"

It's a fact—in the great corn and wheat belts of America, where farmers really know how to get rid of rats, d-CON outdoes all other rat and mouse killers combined!

Farmers know that d-CON is the quick, sure, easy way to rid their property of destructive, disease-bearing rats. For rats hungrily eat d-CON's exclusive LX 3-2-1 formula, never suspect it's bait, never get bait-ahy, devour it without guessing that every bite puts another nail in their coffin. d-CON actually makes rats commit suicide.

d-CON is THERMO-SEALED—always reaches you "factory fresh." Economical, too. One package of d-CON makes several bait stations. Remember, d-CON, used as directed, is safe to use around small children, pets, poultry and livestock, yet is guaranteed to keep your property rat and mouse free forever!

New Chemical Crystal Discovery WAVES HAIR CASUALLY Without Permanent Waving Solutions

Back hair in upswing of loose curls. Glamorous upswept style wide at sides high in front. Part hair style combines grace with wide-swept look. Waves flare up and outward with bloused wave in back.

As casual as if you were born with it, your hair can be beautifully waved in the latest style without permanent waving solution, without neutralizing, without sprays, lacquers or sticky flaky gums. In the miracle of one simple application even the straightest, most difficult to curl hair develops entrancing fascinating waves as natural-looking as naturally wavy hair. Most important, you don't have to put up your hair night after night yet the wave stays-in. Mousse up your hair as much as you like, sleep on it, let it blow in the wind . . . just comb and back into place fall those soft lovely waves, still as natural-looking as if you were blessed with wavy hair all your life. And equally important, your hair gleams radiantly, is so soft, so smooth, so natural to touch. There's none of the stickiness of sprays and lacquers . . . none of that old country "fixed set" look you get after wave sets. And most important of all, your casual wave will look as glamorous the 7th day as it does the 1st. Yet the cost is so fantastically low it's amazing!

Instantly your beautiful, lustrous, soft, smooth hair dresses into the flattering hair style of your choice. And no matter how disarranged your hair becomes at night as you sleep, each morning a few swift strokes of the comb once more makes your hair perfect. U.S. Hearing Faces Piqua Embezzler

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—D. Omer Tobias of Piqua, who authorities say financed his expensive antique collection with the $375,000 he allegedly embezzled from his firm, was brought to Dayton yesterday to face arraignment in federal court Nov. 20.

Tobias, 58-year-old bachelor, was arrested by FBI agents Oct. 27 at Salem, N. J., after having fled Ohio 13 days before. He was taken to Montgomery County jail here upon his return from Salem and was held under $50,000 bond pending arraignment.

He is accused of at least 20 counts of causing stolen checks to be transported across state lines.

The FBI said Tobias allegedly embezzled $375,000 from Hobart Manufacturing Co. in Troy where he worked in the export department for 38 years.

They said he deposited company checks ranging from $2,000 to $12,000 in his personal account with Guarantee Trust Co. in New York City. The checks were to have been placed in the company's account with Guarantee Trust to pay commissions for its overseas agents.

An audit of the company's books disclosed the alleged embezzlement, between June, 1955, and last Oct. 13.

Each of the 20 counts lodged against him carries a maximum penalty of $10,000 fine or 10 years' imprisonment.

New Chemical Crystal Discovery WAVES HAIR CASUALLY Without Permanent Waving Solutions

Back hair in upswing of loose curls.

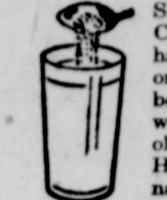

Glamorous upswing style wide at sides high in front.

Pert hair style combines grace with wide-sweep look.

Waves flare up and outward with bloused wave in back.

As casual as if you were born with it, your hair can be beautifully waved in the latest style without permanent waving solution, without neutralizing, without sprays, lacquers or sticky flaky gums. In the miracle of one simple application even the straightest, most difficult to curl hair develops entrancing fascinating waves as natural-looking as naturally wavy hair. Most important, you don't have to put up your hair night after night yet the wave stays in. Mousse up your hair as much as you like, sleep on it, let it blow in the wind. . . . just comb and back into place fall those soft lovely waves, still as natural-looking as if you were blessed with wavy hair all your life. And equally important, your hair gleams radiantly, is so soft, so smooth, so natural to touch. There's none of the stickiness of sprays and lacquers. . . . none of that old country "fixed set" look you get after wave sets. And most important of all, your casual wave will look as glamorous the 7th day as it does the 1st. Yet the cost is so fantastically low it's amazing!

JUST COMB IN

No disappointing failures, nothing that can damage or dry out the hair. All you do is stir a single teaspoonful of clear white Kasa Curl Crystals into a glass of water. Dip in your comb and comb through your hair. No dabbing, no squirting. Just comb through, put up your hair on your regular curlers or pins. . . . and let dry. In the morning your hair will comb out with a casual wave as perfect as naturally wavy hair. Instantly your beautiful, lustrous, soft, smooth hair dresses into the flattering hair style of your choice. And no matter how disarranged your hair becomes at night as you sleep, each morning a few swift strokes of the comb once more makes your hair perfect. There's no loose straggly ends, no "licks," no need for pins. And no matter how damp and dismal the weather, your Kasa Curl stays in. . . . as neat and lovely the 7th day as the 1st.

Wrong-Way Driver Indicted by Jury

SANDUSKY, Ohio (AP)—The Erie County Grand Jury today indicted John M. Hines Jr. of Detroit on seven counts of second-degree manslaughter. He was the wrong-way driver and sole survivor of an Ohio Turnpike crash in which seven persons died last Friday night near Norwalk.

All six were killed, plus Mrs. Claudia Brooks, 45, a passenger in the Hines car.

The 41-year-old Hines admitted he was drinking when his car headed east in a westbound lane—crashed into a vehicle carrying six members of a Jamestown, N. Y., family, including four children.

d-CON STOPPED RATS FROM EATING ME OUT OF HOUSE AND HOME!

Read What Lowell Geringer, Of Wauson, Ohio, Has To Say About d-CON:

"Rats were a real problem with me. I had to get rid of them and so I turned to d-CON. I'd been using another rat-killer, but d-CON sure did the job. d-CON gets results. It really kills rats. Let me tell you d-CON stopped rats from eating me out of house and home!"

It's a fact—in the great corn and wheat belts of America, where farmers really know how to get rid of rats, d-CON outdoes all other rat and mouse killers combined!

Farmers know that d-CON is the quick, sure, easy way to rid their property of destructive, disease-bearing rats. For rats hungrily eat d-CON's exclusive LX 3-2-1 formula, never suspect it's bait, never get bait-shy, devour it without guessing that every bite puts another nail in their coffin. d-CON actually makes rats commit suicide. d-CON is THERMO-SEALED—always reaches you "factory fresh." Economical, too. One package of d-CON makes several bait stations. Remember, d-CON, used as directed, is safe to use around small children, pets, poultry and livestock, yet is guaranteed to keep your property rat and mouse free forever!
